EUROPEAN PRIZE 2008

THE BEST NEW URBAN NEIGHBORHOOD IN EUROPE

EUROPEAN PRIZE FOR THE RECONSTRUCTION OF THE CITY

PHILIPPE ROTTHIER FOUNDATION FOR THE ARCHITECTURE

2008

In occasion of the 25th anniversary of the European Prize for the Reconstruction of the City, the Philippe Rotthier Foundation for the Architecture in Bruxelles, together with A Vision of Europe and CivicArch Lab at the University of Ferrara, launches the the Prize for:

The Best New Urban Neighborhood in Europe

The European Prize promotes the characters of excellence in the designing and building of new urban neighborhoods and aims at enhancing the European genius of building the fundamental matrix of the traditional city: the mixed-use urban neighborhood.

The European Prize aims at encouraging the creation of new mixed-use urban neighborhoods conceived and designed according to the principles of Sustainable Development and the EU Green Paper for the Urban Environment.

Participation to the European Prize is open to architects, engineers, urbanists, municipalities, public and private associations, public and private agencies, by proposing the Best Urban Neighborhood built in Europe in the last 25 years.

Submission forms should be related to:

- new urban enighborhoods
- renaissance and renewal of existing urban neighborhoods
- combination of new construction and restoration in operation of Urban Renaissance

In order to be eligible, proposed interventions should:

- organically fit within the traditional urban morphology of the city
- present an architecture that improves and enriches the regional character

In occasion of the official ceremony of the 2008 edition, a series of events and publications will be presented such as:

- an International Exhibition of Architecture and Urbanism at the Foundation for the Architecture in Bruxelles. The exhibition will be later presented in Bologna at the A Vision of Europe Triennale V, and in several European cities in 2009;
- the publication of the Atlas of the European Urban Neighbourhood, including the most comprehensive collection of historical and contemporary urban neighborhoods in Europe;
- the opening of a web-site dedicated to the Urban Neighbourhood

An International Jury will select the Best New Urban Neighborhood in Europe and the awarded neighborhoods will receive the prize during a ceremony including the donation to the city of a commemorative bronze plate to be applied at the entrance of the neighborhood.

In the 25 years of the European Prize for the Reconstruction of the City every session has awarded with 30.000,00 Euro dozens of remarkable built works that contribute to enrich the European Urban Patrimony.
